Directions: Write your position statement in at least 100 words. Your statement must state your position and logically support it with at least 2 examples/evidence. It must be accurate. Refer to the rubric for full explanation of how points will be given.

Written Position Statement:

Directions: A seat number will randomly be chosen to read their position statement. As a listener, you (your assigned position) will need to decide whether you agree or disagree with the speaker, and explain why or why not. Please refer to the rubric for a full explanation on how points will be given. Once the student finishes reading their position statement, one student will be able to challenge. You, as a listener, will need to decide if you would have the same argument or different argument as the challenger, and if you would have a different argument, explain what.

Speaker: Role:
Agree? Disagree?
Why:
Challenger: Role: Same Argument Different Argument If different you would have said
If different you would have said
Speaker: Role: Role:
Why:
Challenger: Role: Same Argument Different Argument
Same Argument Different Argument If different you would have said